

$789 million

This Budget helps farmers and producers protect against the impacts of climate change and drought, build more resilience for the sector and maintain Australia’s trusted position in the global trade market.

$519.1 million

For Future Drought Fund (FDF) programs to help Australian farmers and regional communities to become more resilient to drought and better manage and adapt to climate change.

Other measures include:

$63.8 million

For initial emission reduction efforts in the agriculture and land sectors as part of Australia’s transition to net zero by 2050.

$1.7 million

For the Australian Fisheries Management Authority to protect our northern waters from the threat of illegal fishing.

$107.0 million

For transition support for the phase out of live sheep exports by sea.

$13.9 million

To ensure the Australian Government maintains its readiness for drought.

$3.6 million

For a Digital Trade Accelerator Program that will increase productivity and reduce costs.

$16.9 million

Further investments in biosecurity services at the new Western Sydney Airports.

$1.9 million

For foundational workforce measures that underpin ongoing productivity in the agriculture sector.

$3.4 million

To help our forestry industry plan for the long term and deliver the election commitment to invest more than $300 million in the sector.

$1.5 million

To deliver on the election commitment to improve arrangements for labelling of plant-based and alternative protein products.

