

Fees and charges for biosecurity and imported food regulatory activity 2026–27

In 2026–27 most cost recovery charges for biosecurity and imported food regulatory activity increased by 3.8% in accordance with legislated indexation provisions. The exception to this is the cost recovery charges that apply to companion animals, which increased above the indexation amount. This increase is driven by additional costs to deliver regulatory activity associated with companion animals at the Post Entry Quarantine (PEQ) Facility.

In 2026–27 the department also:

- introduced new cost recovery charges for live snail consignments when housed at the PEQ
- removed fees that are no longer applied and revised the application of fees and charges for avian imports.
- made improvements to cost recovery for diagnostics through the introduction of new charge points for diagnostics activity undertaken in relation to international vessels, with a revised fees structure proposed for implementation on 1 November 2026.

Legislation

New prices for regulatory charges have been calculated using methodology prescribed in legislation:

- Biosecurity Regulation 2016 – Chapter 9, Part 2, Division 1, Section 107A ‘Indexation of fees’.
- Biosecurity Charges Imposition (Customs) Regulation 2016, and Biosecurity Charges Imposition (General) Regulation 2016 – Part 2, Section 9A ‘Indexation of charges’.
- Imported Food Control Regulations 2019 – Part 4, Section 30A ‘Indexation of charges’.
- Imported Food Charges (Imposition – Customs) Regulation 2015 and the Imported Food Charges (Imposition – General) Regulation 2015 – Part 2, Section 6A ‘Indexation of charges’.

Price calculation methodology

Indexation provisions in legislation provide the methodology for determining if indexation will increase the dollar amounts imposed for specified fees or charges. This is a 2-step process, where the indexation factor is calculated and, if greater than 1, is used to calculate the indexed fee or charge.

Step 1 Calculate the 'indexation factor' for 1 July 2026

The indexation factor for 1 July 2026 is calculated using the All-Groups Consumer Price Index \(CPI\) number (being the weighted average of the 8 capital cities) for the 2025 December quarter and the CPI for the 2024 December quarter.

The formula is:

$$\text{CPI for the 2025 December quarter (reference quarter)} \div \text{CPI for the 2024 December quarter (base quarter)} = \text{Indexation factor (100.97} \div \text{97.31} = \text{1.038)}$$

Based on this formula, the indexation factor for July 2026 is 1.038.

Step 2 Calculate the 'indexed amount' for the fee or charge in question

Because the indexation factor for 1 July 2026 is greater than 1, fees and charges covered by an indexation provision will be indexed using:

$$\text{the dollar amount of the relevant fee or charge immediately before 1 July 2026} \times \text{the indexation factor for 1 July 2026 (1.038)}.$$

The indexed amount of the fee is to the nearest whole dollar. The indexed amount for a charge is rounded to:

- the nearest cent if the amount is below $1 (rounding 0.5 cents upwards), or
- in any other case, the nearest whole dollar (rounding 50 cents upwards).

Example price calculations for fees and charges subject to indexation

Scenarios 1, 2 and 3 set out examples of how new prices are calculated where a dollar value is prescribed in legislation.

Scenario 1 Price calculation of full import declaration charge for air cargo

Price calculation methodology	Price
Pre-indexed price for full import declaration charge for air cargo	$46
Indexation factor	1.038
Calculation of new price	$46 x 1.038
Price after indexation	$47.75
New price (rounded to the nearest whole dollar)	$48

Scenario 2 Price calculation of a category 3 permit assessment fee

Price calculation methodology	Price
Pre-indexed price for category 3 permit assessment fee	$315
Indexation factor	1.038
Calculation of new price	$315 x 1.038
Price after indexation	$326.97

Price calculation methodology	Price
New price (rounded to the nearest whole dollar)	$327

Scenario 3 price calculation of application charge to enter into an approved arrangement

Price calculation	Price
Pre-indexed price for an approved arrangement application charge	$207
Indexation factor	1.038
Calculation of new price	$$207 \times 1.038$
Price after indexation	$214.87
New price (rounded to the nearest whole dollar)	$215

Example calculation of prices where no dollar value is prescribed

Where a provision in legislation does not specify a dollar value, and the amount payable is set by reference to a percentage of another charge, the new price is calculated by working out the indexed price for the full amount of the other charge and then applying the prescribed percentage. An example is provided in Scenario 4.

Scenario 4 Part year charge for a single approved arrangement

The annual charge for a single approved arrangement, where it has been applied for prior to 1 January in a financial year (full year) is currently $2,857.

If a person applies to enter into an arrangement after 1 January in a financial year (part year), the current charge is 50% of the full year charge, which is $1,428.

The indexed rate for the annual charge for a full year is calculated as follows:

- Pre-indexed price multiplied by the indexation factor =  $$2,857 \times 1.038$
- Price after indexation = $2,965.57
- New price rounded to the nearest whole dollar = $2,966
- The new price to enter into a single approved arrangement for a part year is 50% of the annual charge for a full year = $1,483.

Where a provision in legislation does not specify a dollar value, and the amount payable is set by reference to 'twice the amount' for a quarter hour increment, the new price is calculated by working out the indexed price for the quarter hour and then multiplying it by 2. An example is provided in Scenario 5.

Scenario 5 Non-continuous inspection on a weekday outside ordinary hours of duty

Where the department performs an inspection on a weekday outside ordinary hours of duty for each person carrying out the inspection, the current rates that apply are:

- If the inspection is carried out immediately before or immediately after an in-office activity during ordinary hours of duty – $58 for each quarter hour or part of a quarter hour.
- If the inspection is not carried out immediately before or immediately after an in-office activity during ordinary hours of duty, a minimum fee for 30 minutes applies, which is set at an amount that is 'twice the dollar amount' specified for each quarter hour or part of a quarter hour.

The indexed rate for the minimum 30 minutes where the activity is not continuous is calculated as follows:

- New price for each quarter hour or part of a quarter hour =  $$58 \times 1.038$
- New price for the quarter hour =  $$60.20$
- New price rounded to the nearest whole dollar =  $$60$

When an inspection is not carried out immediately before or immediately after an in-office activity during ordinary hours of duty, the rate that applies is for a minimum of 30 minutes.

- The rate that applies for the 30-minute period is 'twice the amount' specified for each quarter hour.
- The new price for this 30-minute period =  $2 \times $60 = $120$ .
