Stop exotic pests getting into Australia

We need your help to stop invasive pests like bugs, beetles, bees, mosquitos, ants and snails getting into Australia from overseas.

These pests, which can hitch a ride in or on imported cargo, containers or packaging, may look harmless. But if they get loose they can cause enormous damage to our agriculture industry, environment and way of life.

Look out for these offenders:

Brown marmorated stink bug

Khapra beetle

Exotic honey bees

Asian tiger mosquito

Red imported fire ant

Giant African snail

Spotted lanternfly

Exotic subterranean termites

Asian black-spined toad

If you spot any of these pests, report it immediately!
