

Submission - Lakehouse Nursery

I'm not a scientist but a specialist grower promoter of HEMEROCALLIS with a worldwide following of 26,000 people. Unfortunately the ban on import both bare-root and seed has made the industry lag behind America and the rest of the world by 10 years. The 'newest' hybrids date to 2014, and we have no newer genetic stock. we need to find a way to import that respects both the risk and the necessity to keep pace so that our Nursery industry does not suffer further.
