

Australian Government
Department of Agriculture,
Water and the Environment

We are modernising the agricultural levies legislation

About the agricultural levy system

The agricultural levy system is a partnership between industry and the Australian Government that collects levies for over 75 commodities across the agriculture, fisheries and forestry sectors. Levy funds can be used for one or more purposes:

Research and development

Marketing

Biosecurity
activities

Biosecurity
response

National Residue Survey

Modernising agricultural levies legislation

The Department of Agriculture, Water and the Environment is modernising and streamlining the legislation that underpins the agricultural levy system, so it is easier to understand and administer.

Public consultation on the new legislation will occur before it is finalised. You can register your interest at leviestaskforce@awe.gov.au.

Scan me to find out more or visit awe.gov.au/levies