

Warren Duncan

The team that currently runs AWI is working for a better wool industry and has brought it out of a huge hole, I feel that their enthusiasm should be commended not put under scrutiny. Without this group our industry would have spiralled due to pressure by over leveraged minority groups.