I have been growing wool for 28 years and our family have been wool growers for 4 generations and my 3 children are all going to be the 5th generation when they finish their off farm studies. I believe that AWI have been doing a excellent job, the current state of the industry proves that. My financial returns from wool have never been better. The evidence is shown by when the current board where appointed an implemented their policy's the rise in the wool price.
