Exporting fish and fish products to Taiwan for further processing for export to the EU

All consignments of fish and fish products exported to Taiwan for further processing for export to the European Union (EU) must now be accompanied by an FX46 certificate with endorsement 4570, issued via EXDOC.

All fish and fish products exported to Taiwan from Australia for further processing for export to the EU must have been produced in establishments which, at the time of production of the product, were approved to process and export fishery products to the EU.

Approved Arrangements (AA)

All EU-approved AQIS establishments and vessels which undertake processing, as defined in the Export Control (Fish and Fish Products) Orders 2005 are eligible to export fish and fish products to Taiwan for further processing for export to the EU. Amendments to your documented food management system to include the above importing country requirements may be required.

Catch Certification

Please note, for product harvested on or after 1 January 2010, consignments of fish and fish products exported to Taiwan for further processing for export to the EU may need to be accompanied by a catch certificate attesting that the product has not been sourced in an illegal, unregulated or unreported manner. For more information on catch certification requirements, please refer to Market Access Advice FISH09/10 and Market Access Advice - FISH09/11.
