SECTION E: Exemptions

- A producer of grain is not liable to pay the grain levy if the total quantity of grain delivered to a person in a financial year amounts to less than $25 of levy.
- If you produce and process your own grain and use the grain or all the products or by-products of the processed grain for domestic purposes and not for commercial purposes, the grain will not attract a levy.
- If grain is delivered for storage on behalf of a producer, where no person is liable to pay the producer for the grain, it will not attract a levy.
- If you produce coarse grain and you retain your own seed on farm for your own use as seed for sowing, including seed that is cleaned, graded and picked, it will not attract a levy.
- Popping corn does not attract the coarse grain levy.

SECTION F: Privacy notice

Personal information means information or an opinion about an identified individual, or an individual who is reasonably identifiable.

The collection of your personal information by the Department of Agriculture is authorised under the Primary Industries Levies and Charges Collection Act 1991 (PILCC Act) for the purposes of administering the coarse grains, grain legumes, oilseeds and wheat levy and related purposes. If you fail to provide some or all of the information requested in this form, the department may be unable to process your levy return.

The department may disclose your personal information to other Australian Government agencies, such as the Australian Bureau of Statistics, and persons or organisations, such as industry bodies and levy recipient organisations, where necessary for the above purposes, provided the disclosure is consistent with relevant laws, in particular the PILCC Act and the Privacy Act 1988.

By providing the department with your personal information, you consent to the collection, use, disclosure and storage of your personal information. Your personal information will be used and stored in accordance with the Australian Privacy Principles. See our Privacy Policy webpage at: agriculture.gov.au/about/privacy to learn more about accessing or correcting personal information or making a complaint. Alternatively, you can telephone the department on +61 2 6272 3933.
